Changers Credits

For each gram of CO2 saved, the user will be rewarded with credits. These credits can be redeemed for goods and services offered by our partners.

Share experience and contribution via Facebook and Twitter.

A currency backed by the sun.

The reduction of CO2 has been accepted as a global goal by the international community.

At Changers.com, we reward these savings by issuing a currency called Changers Credits.

The personal shift of energy behavior generates this social value

Connect with people all over the world with the common goal to stop climate change and make the world a better place

The amount of self-generated and self-consumed energy represents the social value of CO2 savings.

The time is ripe for a shift in society.

For each gram of CO2 saved, the user will be rewarded with credits. These credits can be redeemed for goods and services offered by partners.

Let's ask the society what your personal contribution against climate change is worth.

Spend your Credits!
